Further to your email, 28 November 2008, requesting information under the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, I can advise you as follows:

Fife Constabulary does not hold any documentation that meets the terms of the request in regard to the removal of DNA records. Therefore, under the terms of the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002, Section 17 Notice that information is not held applies.

If you are not satisfied with the way in which your request has been dealt with, you are entitled, in the first instance, to request a review of the decision made by the Force. Should you wish to request such a review, please write to me within 40 working days of receiving this letter. If, after having been informed of the review panel's decision, you are still not satisfied, you are then entitled to apply to the Scottish Information Commissioner for a decision.
